

Notices to Correspondents, &c.

Books for review, correspondence, and all communications for the Editor, should be prepaid, and addressed "Editor of 'Onward,' 51, Piccadilly, Manchester."

Advertisements and business inquiries to be addressed "Mr. E. Barton, 51, Piccadilly."

Friends and Contributors sending articles, reports of meetings, or other information, should enclose their real name and address, write on one side of the paper only, and let their communications be brief and pointed.

Advertisers will find great advantage, at a moderate cost, in using "Onward" as their advertising medium. A large circulation has been already guaranteed, and a very extensive one expected.

TERMS:—

Four lines and under .....	1s. 0d.	Across the page.....	2s. 0d.
For every additional line .....	0s. 3d.	For every additional line .....	0s. 6d.

One page, 21s.; one column, 12s. 6d.; half a column, 7s. A reduction for a series of insertions.

It is very important that all our friends should aid in the circulation of our Magazine. With the desire to give a really cheap and first-class periodical, both in matter and appearance, we shall for some time sustain a pecuniary loss unless a large circulation is secured. As an example and stimulus to others, it gives us pleasure to notice that one gentleman, holding a situation in a Manchester warehouse, has already sold over 1,000 copies of our first number.

One copy of "Onward" will be sent, post free, for twelve months, to any part of the United Kingdom, on receipt of 2s.

The charge for larger quantities may be obtained on application.

The Editor desires very thankfully to acknowledge the large amount of hearty sympathy and promised co-operation, which has been tendered from all quarters.

Communications have been received from the following friends of the temperance movement, all heartily approving of our object and design, and the greater portion giving promises of contributions to our pages:—
